Trip Leaders

Tracy Garland

Tracy Garland studied Vietnamese language and history at Cornell University. She served as PeaceTrees Board President for 3 years and was a board of directors member for 9 years. Tracy is a retired finance and philanthropy executive and has been extensively involved as a volunteer in many community organizations, including Seattle Rotary, Road Scholars, and the American Connemara Pony Society. She has traveled on multiple trips with PeaceTrees and brings a passion for the practices of Citizen Diplomacy to her leadership with the organization

Daniel Nguyen

Daniel Nguyen's parents immigrated from Saigon by boat after the end of the Vietnam War and arrived in Seattle as refugees in January 1980. He was born and raised in Seattle and graduated from the University of Washington. Upon graduation, he moved to Ho Chi Minh City to teach English and reconnect with Vietnamese culture, community, and family. After years of working and living in Asia, he returned to Seattle to work in the technology industry. Daniel has been a board member with PeaceTrees Vietnam since 2018, is involved in the fundraising and governance committees, and has participated in several Citizen Diplomacy Trips.

Tracy and Daniel's diverse insights and valuable knowledge of PeaceTrees' programs and guiding values will make this trip a truly transformative experience.
